BRIDGES . . . ACROSS THE

SEASONS OF OUR LIVES

BRIDGING THE GAPS

Listen, listen, I hear . . . life. I hear joy, I hear effort, I hear desire, I hear dissent. Yes, I hear accomplishments, I hear failures. But most of all I hear, smell, see, and feel hope . . . for a better future.

WAS NOT ALWAYS EASY

A photograph of a person sitting on a wooden bridge over a pond. The person is wearing a dark shirt and light-colored pants, and is looking down. The bridge has a railing. The background is filled with lush green plants and trees. The water in the pond is calm, reflecting the person and the bridge. The overall mood is peaceful and contemplative.

USL . . .

At USL there are two types of learning — one dealing with the processing of man's knowledge and the other of meaningful co-existence. Theoretically, the two should be inseparable and are best where intermingled. The purpose of any place of "higher" learning should involve them both. If it doesn't, then surely it has failed.

THE PEOPLE

“A day without sunshine is like night!”

THE CAMPUS

RAIN, RAIN, RAIN . . .

It was easy to forget that USL does not have an official monsoon season. Walking from H. L. Griffin to Doucet seemed much longer when you were knee-deep in water and visibility was ten feet.

The bridge was made a great deal slipperier by the downpours.

SOMETIMES IT RAINED

HARDER IN OUR SOULS

Regardless of how attractive, how rich, how popular or how intelligent one was, there were bound to be moments filled by the hollowness and pain of depression and loneliness. Maybe it was love or lack of it — or pressures from tests. And maybe, still, it was just one of those days. With 14,000 people and dozens of places at which to party, USL could occasionally be a desolate place.

AT LAST COMES

Warm weather and sunshine have always been two of those essential ingredients to having a good time in Acadiana. Students at Southwestern found a myriad of games to play when time and the weather allowed. All else that was needed was another person . . . usually.

S THE HEAVENLY SUNSHINE

THOSE SUMMER DAYS

1968-1978

MORE THAN TEN YEARS APART

As the words "A decade ago" roll off one's lips, initially the period does seem like a long time ago. For most of us 1968 was a time when we were removed from the main focus of major events that happened in the United States. Still many of the things that transpired then shaped the conscience of American culture. 1968 saw worldwide discontent and a unique impatience with the values most Americans held in high esteem. The waves for change were never so overt in our society. As though one could possibly forget. The civil rights movement was sharply active; two national leaders were assassinated; traditional conceptions about sex, drugs, and war were altered in a way few believed that they could ever be the same. The Chicago Democratic Convention remains a fiasco. We care not to think about it along with the multi-faceted embarrassment of the Vietnam War. Then, late in the year, reactionism began to set in as Richard Nixon was elected President of the United States. All this more or less brings us to where we are today. Civil rights have been dealt a bruised eye with the Supreme Court ruling in the Alan Bakke decision. Joining Affirmative Action in the "that's another one against us" category was the First Amendment. The high court limited freedom of the press by giving officers the right to search and seize in media rooms. ERA is in a desperate position as the deadline for approval draws closer, while three of 35 states have rescinded their ratification. If the riots and protests of 1968 seem to be rampant and far-reaching, the "Taxpayers' Revolt" of 1978 was much more so. Because of Proposition 13, the piece of legislation that started it all, many needed programs were butchered with those that wasted money.

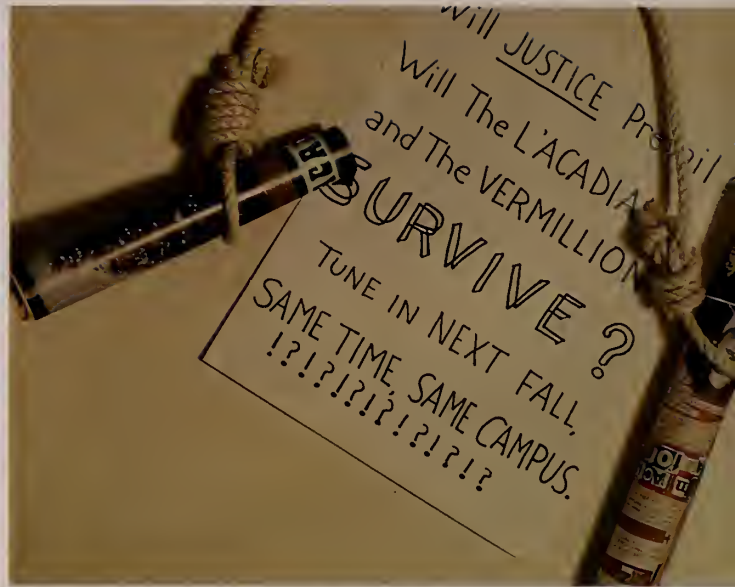

Glancing over dozens of yearbooks from the time, particularly the L'Acadien, it would seem that nothing unusual was going on in the late sixties. This time we would like to show a little of the state of the Union and the status of minds on campus. Few could argue that the U.S. is in an age of conservatism.

CHANGES

CONTROL

CONTROVERSY

The spring and summer semesters of 1978 were times of sharp contrast. The track team had its worst finish in over a decade, while baseball erased USL records in it's winningest season ever. Campus litter was still bad, but improving. Tuition and enrollment increased again, yet there was no mass or even subdued protest. Two personnel deans left and the Athletic Director resigned under a shadow of unanswered questions. The Vermilion and L'Acadien were threatened with termination or tighter controls. Most of the concerts went over despite the fact that there were no super-star acts. Dorms regained popularity and some new headaches. Free-time activities flourished. The Iranian students marched in opposition to the Shah's policies. USL's gays did not march; however, they became more visible and vocal. Certain forces took steps to attempt a name change for Southwestern. The SGA elections were the most talked about in memory.

STUDENT LIFE

USL: A New Environment

Going to college often requires adjusting to a new way of life. Students from other states learn that Acadiana weather is hot and humid during most months of the year. Immigrants from north Louisiana learn to eat crawfish and various pepper sauces popular in Cajun Country. Most students learn to understand other people and to appreciate the "joie de vivre," which makes the USL community unique.

Everlasting Lines

The fall semester of 1978 began with the usual rain and crowded conditions. Puddles covered the campus on the first day of class, and students formed long lines in the new Anders bookstore. Other lines were created in the Union Ballroom and the L'Acadien office as people waited to take ID pictures and pay registration fees. University officials anticipated an on-campus housing shortage, but dormitories reported empty rooms and incomplete rosters. Other dorms reported only overcrowding, broken fire alarm systems and deteriorating living conditions. Almost all USL students gained first-hand knowledge about the rising costs of college, and "used" textbooks were more popular than ever before.

America and Michael Murphy

On March 21, 1978, USL's Blackham Coliseum hosted America and Michael Murphy. Murphy was very popular as a warm-up act, and the crowd responded most warmly to his song "Wildfire." America appeared minus its third member, Dan Peek, who left the group in 1977, however, Gerry Beckley and Dewey Bunnell remained to play a very enjoyable medley of America's old hits. Although the group's vocal harmonies suffered without Peek, Beckley and Bunnell gave their Lafayette audience an interesting and fast-moving show.

Red Tape and Regulations

Surviving at USL seems to depend on learning all procedures and prohibitions as soon as possible. As the university increases in size and importance, more complicated bureaucratic red tape is inevitable. Rules govern absences, registration, parking and almost every other aspect of life here. Sometimes the student feels that his social security number is the only proof of his identity, for very little is possible without an ID card.

Change — Predictable or Unexpected

Changes occurred in many ways around USL this year. A computerized telephone system was installed on campus during the summer and its first immediate effect was to utterly confuse returning students and staff members. New four-digit numbers replaced the old three-digit extensions, and telephones off-campus could finally call extensions directly. The new system is definitely more efficient, and its push-button telephones were easier to operate.

On February 3, 1978, USL's computerized football scoreboard crashed to the ground. The $150,000 scoreboard was plagued by malfunctions late last season, and 35 mile per hour winds all day on February 3 sent the smashed counter to the ground. Of course, the scoreboard was replaced before the new football season began at Cajun Field.

Another change on campus was the absence of Cypress Lake's swans. The swans had driven away the lake's duck population earlier, and a particularly bothersome alligator caused the demise of the last swan. This 'gator also snapped at children and reportedly ate a small dog near the water. The alligator was taken to the Rockefeller Wildlife Preservation Center, and traps have been set in the lake to remove more of the offending reptiles.

This Vigorous Anonymity

Despite USL's large population and Acadiana's reputation, a student can easily feel alienated and anonymous in the multitude. As he is forced to identify himself by a series of numbers and to stand in an impatient line for everything, a person is often overwhelmed and dehumanized by his environment. Some people discover hidden extroversion in their efforts to fight feelings of anonymity; others find dissolving facelessly into the crowd to be comfortable and undemanding. Everyone has an opportunity to learn more about himself as he learns to cope with the crowded loneliness of college life.

Socializing

Social life had a damp start in the fall. The skies were humid and overcast for the first pep rally of the 1978 season, and spectators watched the opening home game under a steady drizzle. USL students displayed their usual enthusiasm for social life by attending games in spite of the weather conditions and packing the Ballroom for the first Union Disco in the fall. Opportunities for socializing were numerous around campus, and distractions easily outnumbered reasons to study for most of us.

Lagniappe Day, 1978

"Beware the Ides of March" was the theme of the annual USL Lagniappe holiday on March 15, 1978. Activities included the traditional crawfish boil, Cajun music and fireworks show along with many special events. Participants enjoyed face painting, roving artists, plays by the foreign language department and the opportunity to play volleyball with enthusiasts like Dean Blanco and Kent Finley. Many people spent the Wednesday relaxing, sleeping, eating boudin or watching the hot air balloon in the quadrangle. (Photos by Peter Piazza)

Looking for Entertainment? Try the Union!

The Union Fashion Committee presented its first fashion showing of the fall on October 6. The weather was cool and sunny, creating a perfect environment for the outdoor show on the Union porch. The noon presentation provided a fashion forecast both for those interested in current styles and for those looking for a mid-day diversion between classes.

On September 19, the Union presented its second annual Banana Eating Contest. The competition took place in the main lobby of the Union at noon, and crowds gathered to watch the activities from the second floor. The participants ranged from female freshmen to male dormitory counselors, but all of them consumed enough bananas to induce avoidance of the sticky fruit for some time. O.J. Lawal was declared victor at last.

I am joy, I am sorrow. I am fear, pity, love.
I am bird, I am clock; a mechanical man.
I am dream, I am nightmare; a martyr hung by my halo; both victim and bully; a lover impaled on my love.
I am puller of ropes, I am juggler; a candle burst into flame, a candle burnt out.
I am gorilla, caged behind bars, straining to meet you — to eat you.
I am mime: an impossible doer of things, a weaver of spells, a magician you can't look away from.
I make you believe.

(from Keith Berger's handbill, Torrence Associates)

Keith Berger — Master Mime

On April 3, 1978, the USL Union sponsored a performance by Keith Berger, a very talented and original mime. Berger produced much of his own publicity through his antics in the Union prior to the show. He entertained students in the cafeteria by waiting on tables, playing robot and pretending to hang himself. Audience reaction to Berger's act ranged from fearful fascination to unrestrained laughter. Berger's spontaneity and his masterful portrayal of human emotions appealed to everyone, and his performance remained a favorite topic of conversation around campus for some time.

Nikki Giovanni — Poet, Author, Lecturer

Nikki Giovanni appeared as the Union Speakers Committee's first guest speaker of the year on January 31, 1978. Ms. Giovanni presented an interesting lecture to her audience of approximately 600 listeners. Much of Ms. Giovanni's message related to young Black students, who she encouraged to enter new areas and to strive for excellence. Nikki Giovanni was one of the more popular speakers on college campuses across the nation in 1978, and her inspiring discussion in the USL Union indicated why.

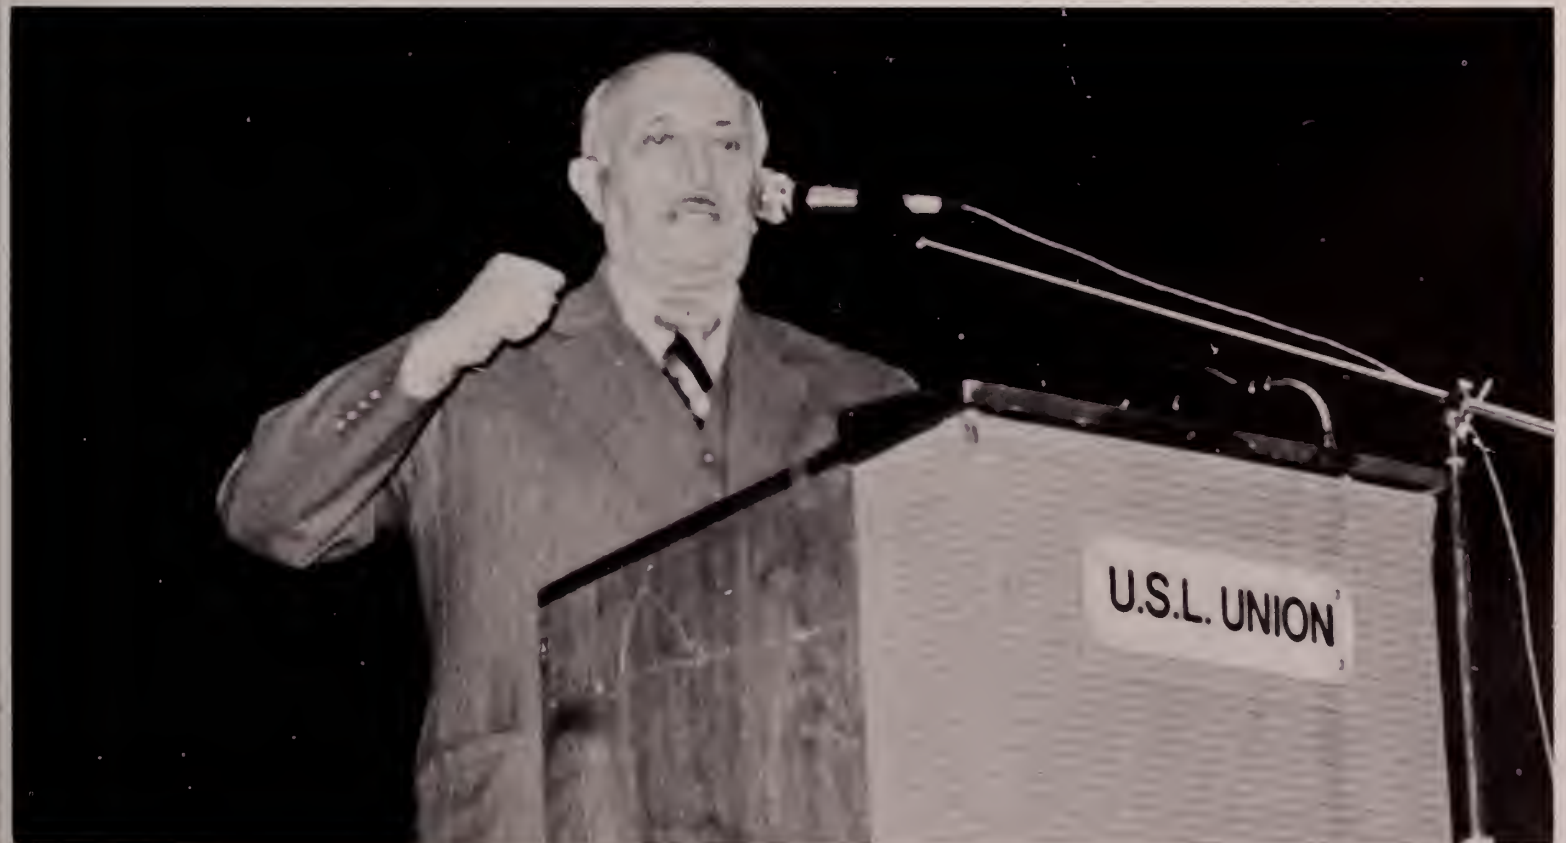

Simon Wiesenthal, the most famous of what is actually a large group of Nazi war criminal hunters and the real life model for the movie "The Boys from Brazil" spoke in the Union about his adventure involving German war criminals. Wiesenthal said that of the 11 million executed in Germany that nearly 5 million were of other nationalities including Dutch, Austrian, and Poles. "But" he said, "the Nazis never published books against the other five million people," as they did Jews.

Turning his lecture to more topical issues Mr. Wiesenthal likened the Holocaust to the turmoil in South America and Africa. Clearly implicating the Ku Klux Klan, Wiesenthal said he agreed with freedom of speech, but not when it is used for racist purposes. He cited the fact that in European nations it is against the law to publish materials promoting racism.

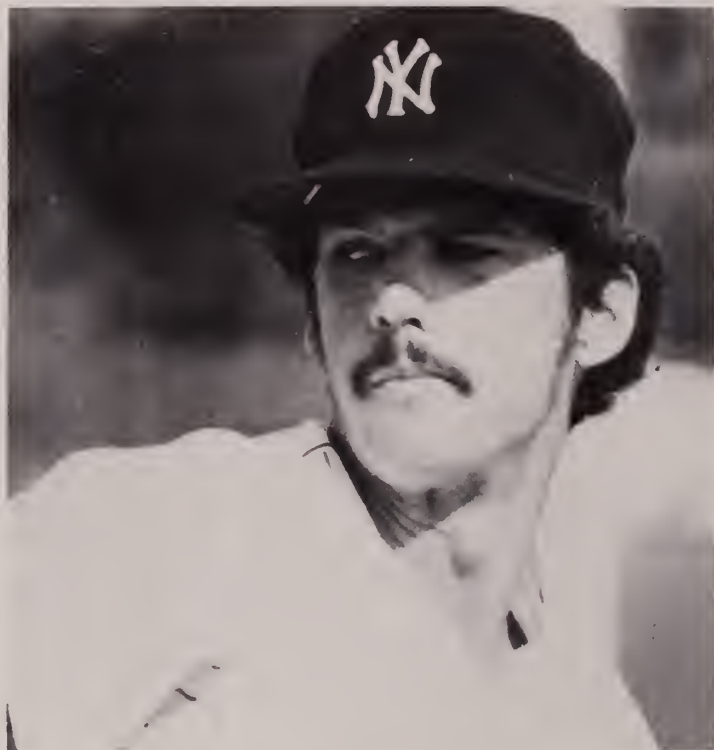

When asked why he continues to hunt war criminals after 33 years, he said, "When we die and go to the other world, the dead of the concentration camps will ask the survivors, What did you do with your life? You will answer I became a jeweler. Another will say, I smuggled coffee and American cigarettes. But I will say, I did not forget you."

RON GUIDRY

USL's most famous Cajun

Ron Guidry preparing to let loose a fastball.

From hundred dollar Ron Guidry baseballs to over four hundred Boy Scouts, the fame of Ron Guidry was being marketed all over Acadiana. The 1978 Cy Young award winner and star pitcher for the million dollar bad boys and World Series winners, New York Yankees, was a hot item this year. One of Ron's first appearances in the area after the Series was at his old school's homecoming. The rather laconic Guidry had not only been idolized by the local people, but has been taken to heart by New Yorkers and baseball fans all over for consistently superb pitching and his consistently quiet and agreeable moods that stood out favorably compared to the antics of many of his teammates.

Cousteau

Waller

Jean Cousteau was the big name attraction of a joint area and USL marine symposium. Cousteau informed the audience about the importance of deep water research and ended with talk about this and his father's show "The Undersea World of Jacques Cousteau". Harry Waller did a variety of fairly tight sets for the small crowd during his stay in the Attic.

AMERICA

Hal Blaine

Highlighting songs from his latest album, "Lone Wolf," Michael Murphy appeared a slight favorite of the crowd during his concert with America. Due to the fact America relied heavily on new material the reaction from the crowd was mixed. Despite the fact that they were without one of their more popular members in Dan Peek, the show was still appreciated because of the professional musicianship and timing displayed by the band.

KATHY RIGBY

Late last spring the USL campus was graced by the appearance of two talented women. Kathy Rigby, gold medal winning gymnast, talked about the growth in popularity of gymnastics and about the Olympics, particularly the role of the United States in the Games. Louise Demucelli was one of the last acts in the Attic. She performed a number of songs in the folk-rock vein with a touch of blues during her stay here.

Gumbo U

Under the auspices of Martha Hoover Gumbo U has enrolled nearly 1,000 people, since its inception in 1977. Gumbo U is sponsored by the Union to offer low cost leisure learning to the Lafayette area. Open to all USL students, faculty, staff and their immediate family members, Gumbo U listed over 40 classes on this year's program. Taking their basic pattern from other colleges that are members of the Free University Network, but with a Cajun flavor, the courses had neither tests nor grades. Tests or credits were not a part of Gumbo U. A partial inventory of Gumbo U courses would look like this: basic gardening, drawing, macrame, pottery (beginning and intermediate), woodworking, jewelry making, yoga, care and feeding of bicycle and rider, fresh and saltwater fishing, genealogy, income tax tips, automobile law, child support, consumer law, on the spot emergency medical, mixology, physical training, auto mechanics for women, backgammon, body language, relaxation and tension reduction, East Indian and disco dancing.

February 24, 1978

Municipal Auditorium was the location for one of the spring semester's smallest and most professional concerts. Arlo Guthrie and the Ozark Mountain Daredevils played a three-hour concert for a peaceful capacity crowd on February 24. The Daredevils provided an entertaining mixture of mountain music and contemporary pop. The crowd particularly enjoyed the work of guitarist Rune Walle and harmonica player Mike Cash. Arlo Guthrie communicated easily with his audience by combining music and monologues. Although many people were disappointed when they did not hear "Alice's Restaurant", Guthrie did play much of his older material. Most of the crowd was pleasantly surprised by the quality of this concert, which provided appealing weekend entertainment.

BAR-KAYS CON FUNK SHUN MEMPHIS HORNS

Just as it seemed the internal bickering of the Entertainment Committee had killed all hopes of bringing a major soul act to Lafayette, up comes the Bar-Kays-Con Funk Shun concert. Although it was considerably late in the semester, the crowd was more than reasonable in number and eager to jam. Opening the show was the Memphis Horns, a brass ensemble that did not do too much to spark the crowd.

Afterwards came Con Funk Shun. And "funk" they did! Featuring songs from their "Secrets" album, especially the hits "DoWhaChaWannaDoo" and "Fun", led by James Mitchell on vocals. Con Funk Shun made the biggest impression of all three groups present.

The headlining Bar-Kays performed admirably, but it appeared that most of the audience expected more.

GODFREY BINAISA

As part of a joint effort by the Afro-American Culture Committee and the Speakers Committee, Godfrey Binaisa came to the Southwestern campus on October 24. Binaisa was at one time Attorney General for the President-for-life of Uganda, Idi Amin. Binaisa lectured about the atrocities committed by the Ugandan dictator and much of it is being ignored by nations that "are reportedly concerned about human rights," because they consider it to be savage acts done to savages. Binaisa also mentioned that it is due only to the work of a small dedicated band of Black journalists that the world is ever made aware of these cruelties.

IRANIAN STUDENTS MARCH IN PROTEST OF THE SHAH

The ISA marches in front of the Bowling Alley.

A small bystander doesn't appear to be impressed by the protest.

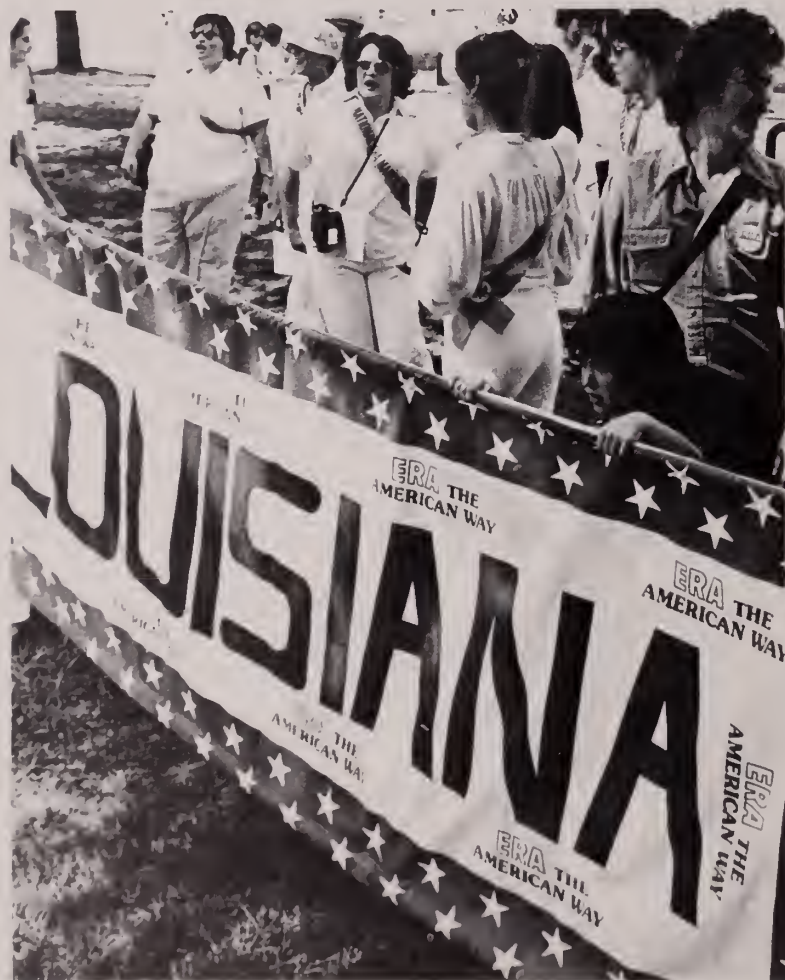

For several days in the spring of 1978 and also the summer of the same year the USL campus resembled a scene from some larger school during the 60's. However it was a march of the Iranian Student Association and sympathizers. The march was called protest of the Shah (ruler) of Iran policies and U.S. "support" of those policies. The demonstration went off peacefully although many USL students reacted negatively to themselves and after many "The U.S. — Shah's best friend," T-shirts were worn by American students.

USL WOMEN JOIN ERA MARCH

Years from now, when writers are putting together other yearbooks called history textbooks, 1978 will be remembered as a time of mixed success for women.

The ERA fight met setbacks, when a number of states rescinded their ratification. USL students and faculty became involved in the struggle as about five people from the USL community joined 150 other men and women from Louisiana in the march on Washington, D.C. July 9, 1978.

It was a 24-hour trek from New Orleans by bus and car, but it was worth it, as the deadline for ratification was extended.

ENGINEERING DAY

Every April 1, the area around Madison Hall and H. L. Griffin is dominated by activities and events that bear some likeness to a high school Science Fair. The resemblance is indeed small, as the works on exhibit are done by what is undoubtedly one of the most aggressive colleges on campus. Engineering Day is an annual event that gives junior and senior students an opportunity to display projects of special interest.

One of USL's many blessings is a fairly efficient cummuters system — taking students to and from Blackham Coliseum every fifteen minutes, theoretically at least. Despite the fact that during peak hours the buses were often filled to a level that would make most any fire marshal declare them illegal, they are dependable and better than walking — usually.

COMMUTING: USL STYLE

OFF-CAMPUS LIVING

It now appears that every term there will be at least mild shortages of housing available at USL. If one is ready to make certain trade-offs, there is always a place to be found in Lafayette. That is if one has the money.

Off-campus living appears to be doing quite well, at least from the standpoint of the leasor. Apartments close to Southwestern were scarce and usually expensive. Those dwellings leading the way in number of USL students were Gateway Apartments, with a cost of $165 for a small furnished one-bedroom place and the perennially popular University Place Apartments, U.P.A., offering both pool and laundry room for $230 with the tenant paying the electricity.

Hannie Apartments, only about fifty yards from the girls' dorms offered good proximity to campus and only slightly high prices.

Frontier Apartments, a well occupied group on the south side, cost $210 for two bedrooms.

If one desires something offering all the amenities then Bayou Shadows leads the way with paid utilities, club house and cable t.v. all for $313. Gloucester Manor with it's two swimming pools was close behind with a price tag of $255.

The largest trade-off between dorm life and apartments was the money, but transportation and meals were also a part of the bargain. Economics forced some students to use candles instead of electricity and sleep four to a room. Still many believed it all to be worth the inconveniences as phrases like "freedom from rules", "seeing none of those undesirables" and "my privacy" dominated the list of reasons for off-campus living.

Above. 1010 had somewhat less frills but also lower prices.
Below. Lafayette Royale, because of it's amenities and location was usually filled.

DORM LIFE

The best way?

There is simply no better way to become a part of USL as living in a dorm. The noisy quiet hours, inconvenient open house hours, tied up telephones, less than sparkling showers, and broken elevators. Yes, that was a part of dorm life. Then why are there so many people here? The low cost, already fixed meals, help with homework, close attachment to the campus, no choice, but most importantly, concerned companionship.

For the past two years dorms have been so crowded at the start of the semester that the Housing Office was forced to grant exemptions almost without asking questions and even to look to to the Lafayette community for help.

Quite possibly the largest reason for the increase in dorm students is the price of apartments. Room and board for the men's dorm was $484 while the cost for an air-conditioned women's dorm was $496 and the older housing cost $490 per term also. To find a decent place near Southwestern under $200 was rare unless you were lucky or willing to share a two-bedroom apartment with at least three people. And for the most part the increase in privacy was only marginal. Houses offer practically the same prospect. However, they generally offered more seclusion.

Dorm Life

VOORHIES

Voorhies is the largest men's dorm on campus with a population hoovering around 315. The "Big V" or the "Animal Farm", as it is often referred to, won the Homecoming Yell Like Hell contest for both 1976 and 77, while finishing second in the dorm division this year. Voorhies also fields one of the top intramural football teams.

STUDENTS AND SPORTS

Despite the fact that men's tennis was the only sport that could lay claim to a conference title, support for athletics was not generally found to be lacking. With the expectation of a few home football games, the students came out in numbers that were much like other years.

As always attendance at games was boosted by parties and just a chance to break old routines and even to watch athletes performing. If students here had only about 6% of the sports revenue, they more than tripled that in the amount of enthusiasm they contributed.

Starting sometime in late February, the school got caught up in an election that would have made the most infamous of Louisiana's politicians take notes. Charges of all kinds from the plausible to the ridiculous were evident.

Candidates for the SGA presidency were Bob Broussard and Eugene Dial. Broussard served as 1977 vice-president and was first to announce his candidacy. Eugene Dial headed the College of Education and at one time was considered to be running mate with Broussard. However, a vast difference in goals led to a quick split and the two heavyweights in campus politics were thrust into battle.

Major platforms for the Focus II party of Bob Broussard were overwalks on University and Johnston, free rides on city buses with I.D.'s and increased parking. The major pitches for the Omni party of Dial and vice-presidential candidate, Tommy Oprea, were more crosswalks and increased student control of the Union.

Probably more important than any of the promises made by the principals in the elections were the delegations and the "tricks" used by both parties to sway voters. Rarely was a chance to undermine the efforts of a party missed by the opposing supporters. Dial's involvement with the Panama Canal Treaty received even more attacks than Broussard's attempt at a name change. Rumors spread that had not only Bob Broussard already been granted acceptance to law school but that he would graduate from USL this summer to attend. In the meantime Dial had to go before a committee to face charges that he improperly used his position and university equipment to announce his candidacy. The charges were dropped due to insufficient evidence.

Overcoming all the innuendo and outrageousness, the election was finally held and the students turned out in numbers that were larger than any other in four years. Owing greatly to superior political guile, Bob Broussard came out the winner. Broussard squeezed past Dial with 1,089 to 1,002.

A run-off was necessary to decide the other executive seats. Karla Karre of Focus II and Tommy Oprea of Omni vied for the vice-presidency with Oprea winning a week later. For the treasurer spot it was Mary Cummings of Focus II and Fount Freeman, an independent with strong support and ties from Omni. Freeman won the runoff by an almost 2 to 1 margin.

Other big winners and losers included a few referendums. Those winning were a $1-fee assessment in for the band's travel expenses; a 75¢ assessment to help finance the debate team's travel plans and a 25¢-year-round tax to improve conditions in the Child Development Center. The day's huge loser was the much bally-hooped name change. The count was an inspiring 1,279 "no" votes to a mere 536 "yes" votes.

Most of the things said during any campaign that cannot be proved are usually better off ignored, however, the charges that Broussard would graduate in the summer should have been heeded, as he did exactly that. Broussard left USL to attend law school at Louisiana State, leaving Tommy Oprea to serve as SGA president for the remainder of the year.

Replacing the popular Joe Okers, who left to work with the City of Lafayette this fall, was Madeline Hebert. The money for the lawyer was provided through mandatory student fees. Hebert is the law expert for over 10,000 students.

Matters receiving the most attention involved landlord-tenant contracts, minor accidents, consumer cases and employee rights. Madeline Hebert is a graduate of LSU law school. Assisting her is the Director of Students' Rights.

UNIVERSITY OMBUDSMAN

A USL English graduate student and former House Director now holds the title of University Ombudsman. Alan Oddotto's job responsibilities include hearing complaints from students, faculty and anyone else in the campus environs.

The major issues encountered by his office were grade problems and complaints about teachers or administrators. Addotto feels that his being a graduate assistant and student makes him "more objective and better able to cross both lines."

Addotto was the only applicant for the position, but quickly attests to his being duly qualified.

He said he had no official written authority to do anything, but that the deans listen to him.

With the stated purpose of opening people to the light of the Black Experience — past, present and future, Black Expo Week began with a reading by Melvin Thomas.

Although a tremendous effort was expended, some events failed to materialize and others were poorly attended. As Ernie Daniels, advisor for AACC, said "We had hoped to get more attendance from the community, especially the USL community." Still, by and large, the entire event had to be considered at least moderately successful.

MARDI GRAS — LAFAYETTE STYLE

Probably unknown to most people 20 miles north of Alexandria, Acadiana does have its own celebration of Mardi Gras. Lafayette's festivities naturally do not rival New Orleans' in numbers, but the gaiety and atmosphere here is unique.

As is common knowledge, if there's a party, USL students will be there. Mardi Gras was no exception. The general theme of the 1978 involvement was the Krewe of Des Etudiantes.

A member of "Lafayette's finest" smiles for the camera as he escorts part of the parade.

L'Acadien and Vermilion survive scares

On any other campus in the nation (possibly excluding a few in Louisiana and Mississippi), the threat of cutting off funds to the school's two print media by the president would quite assuredly cause some sort of mass ruckus. However, with the exception of a few concerned and involved people, USL students never let it wake them out of their drowsiness. In fact most of them could not even recall the incident.

Innuendo and rumor surround the unusual circumstances that led to Dr. Authement saying that if tighter control were not placed on the Vermilion and L'Acadien, he would not collect funds in the fall. An event that would undoubtedly cause an end to the yearbook and at least hardships for the school weekly. Reasons for Authement's stand, as he told the Communications Committee, was because of his responsibility for libel. Speculation had it that his position was influenced by the 1978 Vermin, a satirical version of the Vermilion that featured several articles that some considered lewd and some thought outrageously funny. Rumors spread that the L'Acadien became entangled in the distasteful situation because of gossip concerning an obscure deal between the candidates for the SGA presidency and the newly elected editor. Concern was also voiced over what seemed to be a definite shedding of the conservative and soft-spoken editorial policy of the L'Acadien.

As is often the case, nothing monumental happened. The guidelines for the Vermilion were quietly rewritten, while the rules for the L'Acadien were tabled until another year without much of an attempt to reach any kind of agreement on changes regarding the 1979 book. The Vermilion has, for better or worse, been printed every week; while, if you're reading this, then apparently the L'Acadien was able to survive also.

International Students: From their side

U.S.L. has 1,200 International students on campus. That is to say 9% of U.S.L. students are from foreign countries. The top ten countries are Iran, Venezuela, Nigeria, Lebanon, Hong Kong, Jordan, Honduras, Viet Nam, Columbia, and Algeria

The majority of International students arrived at U.S.L. by chance. But some had heard of it, or knew someone who attended it, a friend, or a friend's friend.

Not all foreign students are able to speak English when they arrive in the United States. Too often the inability to speak English is associated with stupidity. But U.S.L. provides a wealth of programs and courses to cope with their difficulties.

The International Student Office has a variety of programs to improve cultural exchange. For example, international nights are sponsored at various dormitories, host-family programs, and a Thanksgiving supper in the Fall. An International Week, open to the public is held annually in the Spring.

International students sometimes tend to think of America as the land of milk and honey, and land of freedom and equality for all. But often they come only to be quickly disillusioned. They find the milk has curdled and the honey not sweet.

The other impression students sometimes get is one of America as a "den of iniquity." A place where drugs abound and sex is 'free' / cheap. The land of cowboys and indians, movie stars, and Hollywood. This image unfortunately, is also projected by films, novels, and other media.

On the other hand the American student too has strange ideas of students from abroad. So, ignorance is on both sides and is not limited to one or the other. It is only by meeting and mingling with those of other nationalities that one begins to grow.

On November 7, Phoebe Snow set the Lafayette Municipal Auditorium on fire in one of the most inspired performances of the year. Phoebe Snow did tunes ranging from her biggest hit single, Poetry Man, to tracks from her latest album, Against The Grain. Not only were the songs diversified in time but they covered a wide spectrum of musical style.

Dan Hill, the warm-up act, started with his top 40 single, "Sometimes When We Touch" and other soft ballads about love and even his interracial background. However, it was Ms. Snow that made the show.

Night Life in and Around USL

The countdown usually begins after the last class on Wednesday. Although for some it can start as early as Monday. Just _____ more hours till Friday.

Often it seemed as though that was the motivation for many students. Living for the weekend was probably a bit more true than most of us care to admit. It is impossible to conceive of school without those temporary reprieves that happen every five days.

In Lafayette we were offered numerous ways to spend those Friday and Saturday (in some cases Thursday and Sunday) nights. When we left the confines of our dwellings, the most popular things to do were drinkin' and discos. Drinking became synonymous with Friday. And Friday meant specials at the Strip. The Strip is actually a string of bars along the General Mouton street area, Lafayette's version of Bourbon Street.

Places attracting a large number of students include a revitalized Andy Jacks, Mother's Mantle which also featured occasional live entertainment, the Brass Rail and the "college tradition" called The Keg.

For various and, in some cases, obvious reasons, Black students did not frequent the Strip. And as is quite often the case, the places Blacks went were further from campus and centered more on music and dancing than drinking. As for years now the biggest club was the Mahogany. Top of the South, a newer outfit on Johnston Street found quick acceptance.

The discos that gathered the most attention were led by The Sting, long a favorite here that also held the pep rallies. The Turn of the Century, despite it's location, managed to have it's share of people as did the Southern Comfort.

Familiar Places Remain Strong

Atchafalaya entertained a crowd of college students at Mother's Mantle.

As for some years the Mahogany attracted the majority of Black students as the "Strip", despite it's location has never gotten a large number of Black students.

Spirited involvement characterized most of this year's Homecoming activities. More time and effort was put into Homecoming displays of 1978 than in some time. One would hardly guess that the team had only won two games and was to be shut down by the Arkansas Indians that night. Probably as unusual as the increased involvement was the fact that no single incident worthy of police force was recorded. And, of course, there was Ron Guidry.

The facilities at USL encompass more than the viable university campus. In fact only 65 of the 1200 acres owned by USL are located on the main campus. The athletic complex on West Congress utilizes a considerable percentage of the total university acreage. The largest portion of the university property is located in the Cade area, which is composed of over 600 farm acres. Approximately 200 buildings currently exist on campus, and the most expensive, excluding the athletic complex, is Fletcher Hall, which cost the university approximately $3.2 million.

The maintenance of USL is the single most expensive service. The annual budget for maintenance reaches approximately $3.7 million. Presently under construction are the renovation of Billeaud Hall and a campus lighting project. The business office noted that the paving of Cajun Field parking area has been completed.

Future renovations include an addition to the Acadiana Radiation Lab, and the establishment of the farm laboratory, renovations to Madison, Broussard and Mouton Halls and the construction of 100 married couples apartments.

USL will take on a new image in the near future. The old, familiar buildings will receive their long awaited renovations, and USL, as many of us know it today, will grow.

THE AMERICAN MYTH — 1978 STYLE

Much has been written and even more said about the 60's being the period when America came out of her delusion of grandeur, yet we still hold on to ideas far from the truth.

On this occasion, that will live in infamy as the time prices have doubled since 1965 and the dollar has fallen to lows many would believe belong to Third World nations. Mention should be made of where the United States does stand.

The much vaulted GNP of the U.S. is surpassed on a per capita basis by Sweden, Switzerland, Denmark and West Germany.

The land of equality is, and never was, all that equal. The richest 10 per cent gather 26.1 per cent of our wealth, while the bottom 10 per cent get a mere 2 per cent. Blacks earn 69 per cent as much as whites; women working full-time earn about 60 per cent as much as men. Our physical wealth is distributed even worse. The top 20 per cent owns 80 per cent of everything the private citizenry can own and the low 25 per cent owns nothing (in fact, most have a negative figure).

Economic conservatives contend that this type of disparity is needed to maintain the "world's highest standard of living". The richest 10 per cent of Americans earn 15 times as much as the bottom 10 per cent. In the other leading industrial nations, Sweden's ratio is 7, Japan's is 10 and West Germany has 11. The U.S. ranks second in the highest degree of inequality only to France.

To blame a recent faltering economic performance on government control and social programs is futile. Indeed all of the economically strong countries achieved their status on the very basis of strict government, extended social welfare and in some cases even systems bordering on socialism.

All this taken by itself is just another set of "semi-leftist" ideas; however, this is for the purpose of, letting men and women who will help make the America of tomorrow know where it stands today and what could be done to improve her condition.

FINAL EXAMS:

The End of It All

To many students' surprise, final exams' week is one of the most important times of the semester. For those students who have restrained from studying throughout the semester, their hours are spent studying an entire semester's work during a one-night "cramming" session. Other students who have been keeping up with assignments need only to refresh their memory with a brief review.

Many students use their time listening to tapes in the language lab, reading in the library, or running that last program through the computer. Other students spend their time reviewing notes while relaxing under a shady oak. Here at USL, students prepare in some way or another for that final week of the semester and the end of it all.

GRADUATION

Each semester USL graduates hundreds of seniors. The ceremony serves as the culmination of four or five years of study. The diploma, however, symbolizes only the intellectual development of the recipient. The good times, the warm friendships, and the nostalgia of "college days" are the acknowledged accomplishments which accompany that diploma. Immature and incomplete persons entered USL but time and experience nurtured the growth of the men and women who graduate each year.

MEDIA

"in the middle of things"

Media, by all practicable definition, is a means of mass communication, but the word's etymology reveals a new identity for the term. "Media" is derived from the Latin word meaning middle, and it denotes a condition midway between extremes, something similar to a compromise. USL has applied the etymological usage of media to the university campus.

Music is one of USL's most profound means of communication. "The Pride of Acadiana," USL's marching band, fulfills the promise of its name as it provides the rhythmical beats for the university's major sports events. Though the marching band is the most well-known portion of the musical sector, USL is equally proud of its orchestra, jazz band, and vocal ensembles. The music department also works closely with Lafayette's Opera Guild to produce several fine operas.

Another of USL's communication media is art. The new campus facility has allowed for the necessary growth of this medium. Fine and applied arts, along with architecture, have filled Fletcher Hall with the artistic talent so prevalent at USL. Choreography, a dramatic art form, has communicated the idea of creation and self-expression, which is the heart of true media.

Self-expression is, however, most dominant in the area of verbal communication. The Southwestern Players perform in Burke Hall Theater on an average of five times a year. These major productions are open to the public and attract hundreds of area people annually. The speech department also stages laboratory reader's theaters. Professionally, USL has a fully operational radio station (KRVS) and a television station (WAFB).

Professionalism is also found in the written messages of the Vermilion and L'Acadien. The weekly newspaper and yearbook, respectively, operate on annual budgets with the formats of competitive professional publications. Both are staffed and operated by USL students. The English department also publishes The Southwestern Review, the university's literary magazine. The Review gives students an opportunity to publish their manuscripts in an edition with nationally acclaimed authors.

Media surrounds the campus not only through the established methods, but through billboards, pamphlets, and flyers. These miscellaneous forms, however, constitute a large percentage of actual daily communication. These "town criers" appear and disappear as the weeks progress. USL truly does put media in the middle of things.

USL BAND:

The Pride of Acadiana, USL's marching band, is one of the many components of the university's school of music. The 132 member band provides the students of USL with various "sounds and shows" of entertainment. The Pride of Acadiana is under the musical direction of James Goodman and the field direction of Paul Sahuc, drum major. In addition to the 72 horn players, the band consists of a 24 member flag corps, 12 member rifle line, 22 percussionists, and an American flag unit. These auxiliary squads add the finishing touches which make the USL band one of the most dynamic marching groups in this area. Because of the band's dedication and multi-talented members and directors, the band has once again lived up to its name, The Pride of Acadiana.

USL supports and appreciates the time, effort and hard work that the members of its band put forth to provide the added spirit so evident in their performances.

THE EMPEROR'S NIGHTINGALE

The stage adaptation of Hans Christian Andersen's The Emperor's Nightingale by Dan Totheroh was presented by the USL Speech Department in conjunction with the Junior League of Lafayette and the Lafayette Parish School Board. The February production marked the ninth year of this successful Family Series. The play was produced under the direction of Dr. Ronald C. Kern in co-operation with Mr. Richard Zimmermann, designer and technical director, and Mr. Ernest Vincent, costumier.

The story concerns the Emperor of China who wishes to possess a nightingale, the bird which has the sweetest voice in the world. Upon receiving a nightingale from the little Kitchen-maid, the Emperor is delighted. The nightingale, however, is sad in captivity and manages to escape while the ruler's attention is diverted by a mechanical, jewel-covered bird. Dying of unhappiness, the Emperor is revived by the glorious song of the nightingale which returns.

Mr. Richard Zimmermann, designer and technical director, and Mr. Ernest Vincent, costumer, also contributed to the success of the productions.

The story of Tango deals with Arthur; a young university student living with his Bohemian family. Rebelling against his parents' permissiveness, Arthur begins his own armed revolution to re-instate tradition. Unforeseen and explosive events occur when Arthur applies his plan to remake the world.

The Hasty Heart by John Patrick was the July performance at the Burke Hall Theatre. The play was a joint effort among: Dr. Ronald C. Kern, director; Mr. Stanley Coleman, assistant director; Mr. Richard Zimmermann, designer-technical director; and Miss Jane Gaubert, costumier.

The play is set in Southeast Asia during World War II in a convalescent ward of a temporary hospital. A stubborn Scottish soldier is assigned to the ward, where he rejects all ideas except his own. This independence causes hostility with the other patients. Love prevails, however, because the characters eventually learn the great lesson of understanding.

NIGHT OF THE IGUANA

The October performance of The Night of the Iguana by Tennessee Williams was presented by the USL Speech Department in Burke Hall Theatre. Assisting the director, Dr. Ronald C. Kern, were Dr. I. Stewart Hoch, designer-technical director, and Mr. Ernest Vincent, costume coordinator.

The play is set in the Costa Verde Hotel in Puerto Barrio on the west coast of Mexico. It is the story of a defrocked minister now a tour guide, who comes to the hotel with a group of ladies from a Baptist Female Seminary in Texas. Residing in the hotel are the tough, sex-starved, neurotic and serene characters who are searching for security and identity.

In his review of the play, Douglas Watts stated "At the heart is loneliness and yearning . . . at its still, quiet center lies the moment of tenderness of sympathetic understanding untouched by physical desire . . ."

Assisting the director were Dr. Stewart Hoch, designer-technical director and Mr. Ernest Vincent, costumer.

Walter F. Kerr of the New York Herald Tribune summed up the play perfectly.

All in all, Dial "M" for Murder is the kind of show which sets its audience to whispering "Will he find the letter?" in urgent tones, and earnestly thumbing their programs to make sure exactly how much time has elapsed since the preceding scene. It's a holiday for the whodunit fans, and as such, it couldn't be more welcome.

KRVS

KRVS, the USL radio station, underwent a complete renovation during the fall semester. As Vernon Hamlin, the station manager, reported, "the station is undergoing a transition from a 30 watt to 3,000 watt broadcasting power which will allow coverage within a thirty mile radius. The new BF3.5K stereo transmitter in addition to other new equipment costs approximately $18,000. Once the renovations are completed, the station will operate seven days a week and will provide nineteen hours of programming daily.

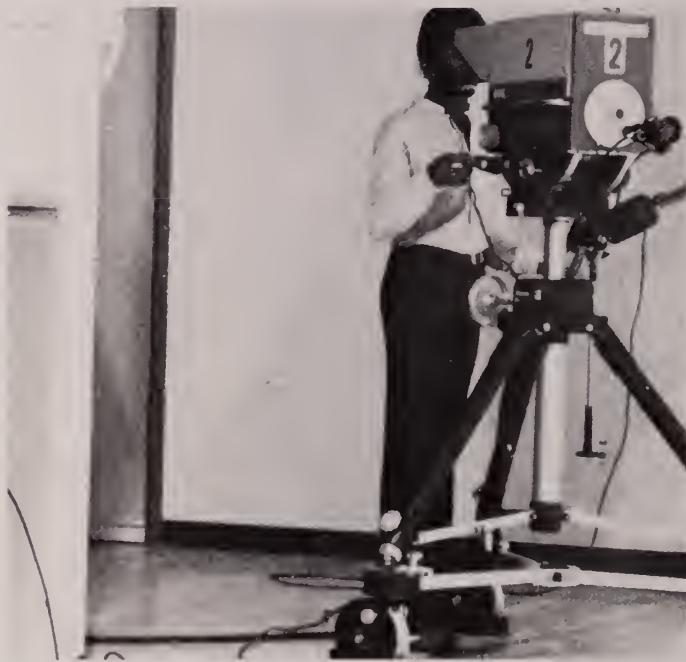

KRVS, which was the first FM station in Lafayette, went "on the air" in May of 1963. Operating on an annual budget of $20,000 which is obtained through student assessed fees, KRVS broadcasts at an 88.1 frequency. Jerry Brigham USL Speech professor serves as general station manager of KRVS while Floyd Bernard assumes the duties of chief engineer. With new equipment, greater watt power, and increased programming hours, KRVS will take on a new image and assume a more important role in the USL community.

USL TV

The USL-TV station provides students with the opportunity of training to become competent television personnel. The station operates on an annual university budget which allows for provisions of the necessary equipment for production. As the students learn the mechanics of the station, they will eventually become involved in taping and producing their own programs. Students might also have the opportunity of having their programs aired on Channel 8 which is a part of Lafayette's Cable television station. The USL-TV station has proven to be a beneficial educational program for USL students.

It consists of an executive branch and a legislative branch. The "Big Three" are elected by the entire student body and make up the core of the executive branch.

The senate is elected by the students in each of the seven colleges. Elected are a president for each college and one senator for every 500 students enrolled in that college.

The projects this provides include: an attorney for free legal advice, the SGA van, the SGA book exchange, USL-SGA Child Development Center, scholarships and other activities such as Homecoming and Lagniappe Day. Students pay $1.50 each semester for these projects.

V.H.S. is an honorary woman's organization whose limited membership is based on grade point average and extra curricular activities. Each spring the organization nominates and selects twenty to thirty girls for membership. Vermilion has adopted the USL Dialogues Program as its primary project. This program gives exceptional high school students throughout the parish an opportunity to learn new things about the community. Aside from this program, VHS participates in service drives for charities, socials with Blue Key, and other campus related activities.

Phi Kappa Phi is the highest scholastic achievement offered on the USL campus. This national and international organization extends membership to students, faculty, and alumnus. Juniors who are in the top ten percent of their class and seniors who maintain a GPA of 3.5 or above are offered membership to Phi Kappa Phi. The organization hosts a reception each spring for outstanding freshmen and sophomores to introduce them to the organization and instill them with the incentive to maintain high averages.

Jim Hatfield (above left) in his three years as head basketball coach at U.S.L. has managed to win twenty games, the Southland Conference championship and be named Southland Conference "Coach of the Year".

Hatfield came to U.S.L. from the University of Kentucky where he had been an assistant coach and a recruiter for Coach Joe Hall. Coach Hatfield organizes his recruiting program into a computer precision program wherever he goes.

Coach Hatfield resigned as Head Basketball coach in April to take the position of Basketball Coach at Mississippi State University.

Bobby Paschal (above right) has had his lifelong dream fulfilled. Back when he was an aspiring player in junior high school, Paschal had wanted to be a college basketball head coach. In April that dream came true when he was named head coach of U.S.L. to replace Jim Hatfield.

Victory seems to follow Bobby Paschal wherever he goes. In 1964, he became head coach at Ashford High School in Alabama. In his four years, the team won two conference championships and two district championships. In 1968, he became head basketball coach at Plant High School in Florida. In his years at Plant, the school won one district championship. During the 1971-1972 season he was a graduate assistant at Livingston and the school had its best record in history.

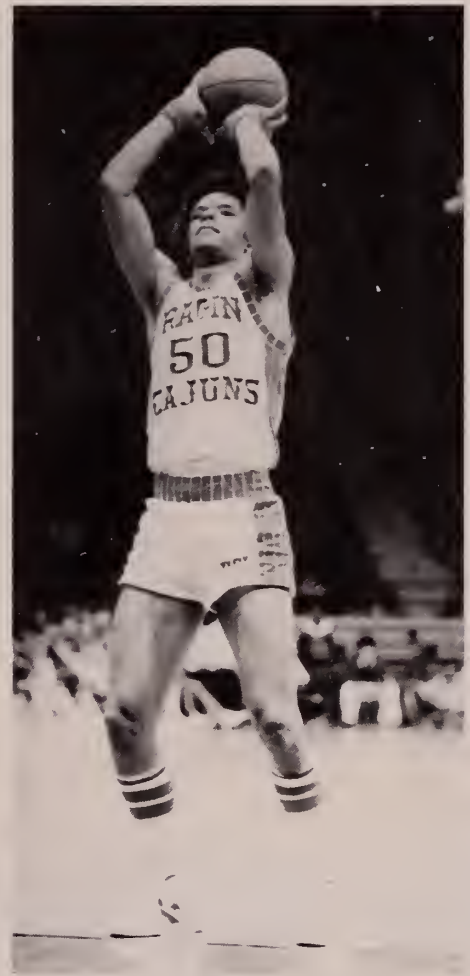

After serving as an assistant at Florida Southern for four years, Paschal found his way to U.S.L., where he served as an assistant under Hatfield until last April.

GREEK LIFE — WHAT IT MEANS TO THEM

Sorority life is a channel in which girls grow together to learn more about themselves and each other.

I wanted to join a sorority so that I could become more involved in campus life. Chi Omega consists of special and unselfish girls that are very active and involved.

Through rush and Kappa Delta I have been given the opportunity to make many new friends and grow not only within a group but also as an individual.

Tri-Delta — Pep rallies — Football Homecoming — Yell Like Hell — Parent/daughter weekend — Socials — Sadie Hawkins — Special friendships and fun with sorority sisters and other greeks.

I wanted to meet people and have many friends. I heard a lot about the strong bond of sisterhood in Tri-Sigma and that's what I knew I wanted.

I wanted to pledge the best!! In Omega there was no half-steppin'!

A lot of my friends went Zeta Phi Beta and the atmosphere was much warmer.

To be myself, that's why I went Phi Kappa Psi.

The guys in Sigma Nu were much more involved in so many different things.

Sisterhood, charity, creativity, and scholarship are the principles of Zeta Phi Beta. The ladies of Zeta offer their time and talents in community-oriented projects. ## PRESIDENT — DR. RAY AUTHEMENT

Evaluating the performance of a person at the top of the ladder is easy when the critical observer is sitting on the bottom rung. Being the top person of any institution is not an easy position, though the average person may suspect that it is. Ray Authement sits on the crest of the ladder of higher learning here at USL. He has held this position since 1973, when he became acting-president. In 1974, Dr. Authement became the President of USL. He graduated from USL in an undergraduate study area, though he received both his M.S. and Ph.D. from LSU. In an article in "The Pride of Acadiana," Dr. Authement had this to say about the school he so proudly heads: "Every university takes pride in its history, its faculty, its campus and its students, and the University of Southwestern Louisiana is no exception. But I believe USL offers its students some "Lagniappe," something unique, simply by virtue of its location in the heart of Acadiana, one of the truly remarkable areas of the United States."

VICE-PRESIDENTS

Each vice-president is in charge of specific interest areas, which, when combined, compose the basic structure of USL as an effective educational institution.

The Department of Academic Affairs is headed by Sammie W. Cospers. Dr. Cospers obtained his undergraduate degree from USL and his doctorate from Purdue University. Under his domain are teachers' affairs, scheduling classes, degree requirements, and related matters.

James R. Oliver, head of Administrative Affairs, has been a part of the USL administration since 1954 and became vice-president in 1973. Under his auspices comes major purchasing decisions, organizations and concerns that involve personnel.

The co-ordination of six departments under the heading of University Relations is the job of Dr. Jack Testerman. Intra-university as well as public relations have been Dr. Testerman's duty since his appointment in 1973. He is a graduate of Oklahoma State and received his doctorate from the University of Texas.

STUDENT PERSONNEL

Rules and regulations, the guidelines of every student, are under the jurisdiction of the personnel deans. The leaders are Raymond Blanco and Mary Olive McPhaul. "Blanco Believers" have specific charge over the counseling and testing center, free-time activities, university police, medical clinic, student union, housing, and the international student's office. They adhere to a system which works only as long as each individual within that system is willing to abide by set guidelines.

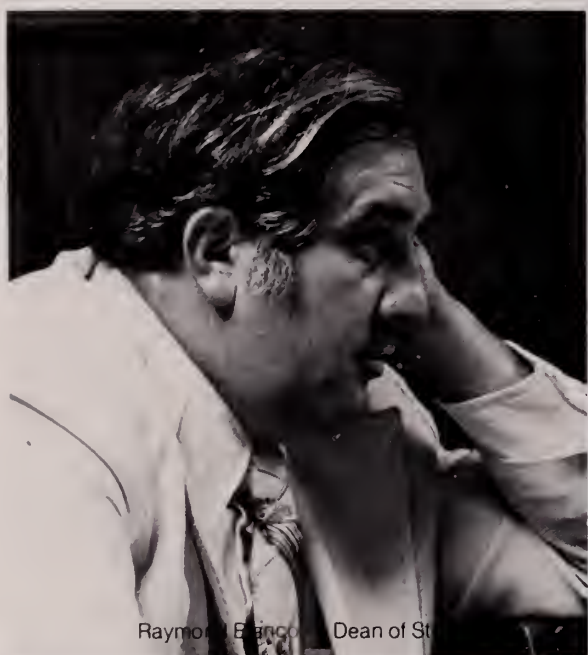

Men's and women's dormitories staff training, housing directors, discipline and activity planning all come under Student Personnel. Responsibility for over 10,000 full time students hangs over their heads every day. Blanco's Believers make the non-academic world work.

OFFICE OF BUSINESS AFFAIRS

Budgeting, personnel, purchasing, plant maintenance, and all financial management is the responsibility of the Business Affairs division at USL. The university currently operates on an annual budget exceeding $32 million. These finances come from various sources with state appropriations providing the largest percentage. Surprisingly student fees total only 16.4% of the total income for USL. The success or failure of USL's financial situation depends on the hard work and effort put forth by the office of Business Affairs.

COLLEGE DEANS

Dean Robert Hauger

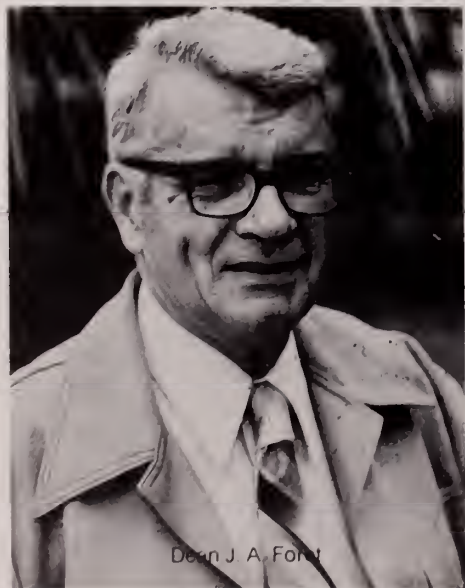

Preparing men and women to enter into and lead the business community is the primary goal of the College of Commerce. The college functions with the idea of developing the students' personal responsibility to work within the free enterprise system. Management, production accounting, finance, and other office occupations are the major study areas in the College of Commerce. It provides the major advisory board for the Junior Achievement program in Lafayette. Several programs have been brought to the campus, including the Southern Business Correspondence Conference. Future plans of the department are the building of a small business development center, the establishment of a speakers bureau for the Free Enterprise program, and the development of courses for finance companies in conjunction with the Home Savings & Loan League.

Training students for living and working in agricultural related professions and life styles is the primary aim of the College of Agriculture. Graduate programs and pre-veterinary medicine programs are also part of the agricultural curricula.

The College of Agriculture specializes in areas of Agricultural engineering, animal industry, home economics, plant industry, and vocational agricultural education.

During the fall of 78 the college received a 600-acre addition to the USL farm.

The advancement of knowledge and the transmission of cultural heritage is the most significant contribution the College of Education makes for its students. Its purpose is to prepare competent teachers to work within the Louisiana school system. The college is selective in fulfillment of its obligation to produce educators who are responsible to both their professional and social responsibilities.

Dean J. A. Ford

Dean Robert Ducharme

COLLEGE DEANS

Dean Ruby Tillery

The College of Nursing seeks to produce graduates capable of independently applying the scientific principles of bio-psychosocial discipline in order to provide improved health care. This year the college claims 704 participants, one hundred of this number anticipate graduation in the Spring.

The College of Arts, Humanities, and Behavioral Sciences, the largest at USL, is composed of eight departments and two schools. The college encourages the development of programs to meet the individual needs and interests of the students, the belief that a solid foundation of liberal arts is needed for professional studies is stressed. Graduate work opportunities also exist. The music department received a scholarship fund from the USL foundation. The endowment totals to about $450 a year. Among the many events sponsored by the college was a USL Writer's Conference that featured poet Karl Sphavlo and Stephan Spender. The college also had the honor of claiming two of the five young distinguished professors. They were Glen Conrad, associate professor of History and Dr. Carl Wooton of English. Also, Pat Rickles, professor of English was awarded a grant from the AMOCO foundation.

Dean James Reeves

The College of Engineering prepares its graduates to overcome the technical problems of the next decade. Enrollment has nearly tripled in the last four years, totalling 1400 undergraduates this year. The employment is an impressive 100%. Aside from the traditional Engineering Day, the geology department participated in a summer field camp, the first of its kind in over twenty years. The department also received federal grants for study programs in the geo-thermal energy area. Other plans are to complete renovation of the building and updating laboratory equipment.

Dean Mary Dichmann

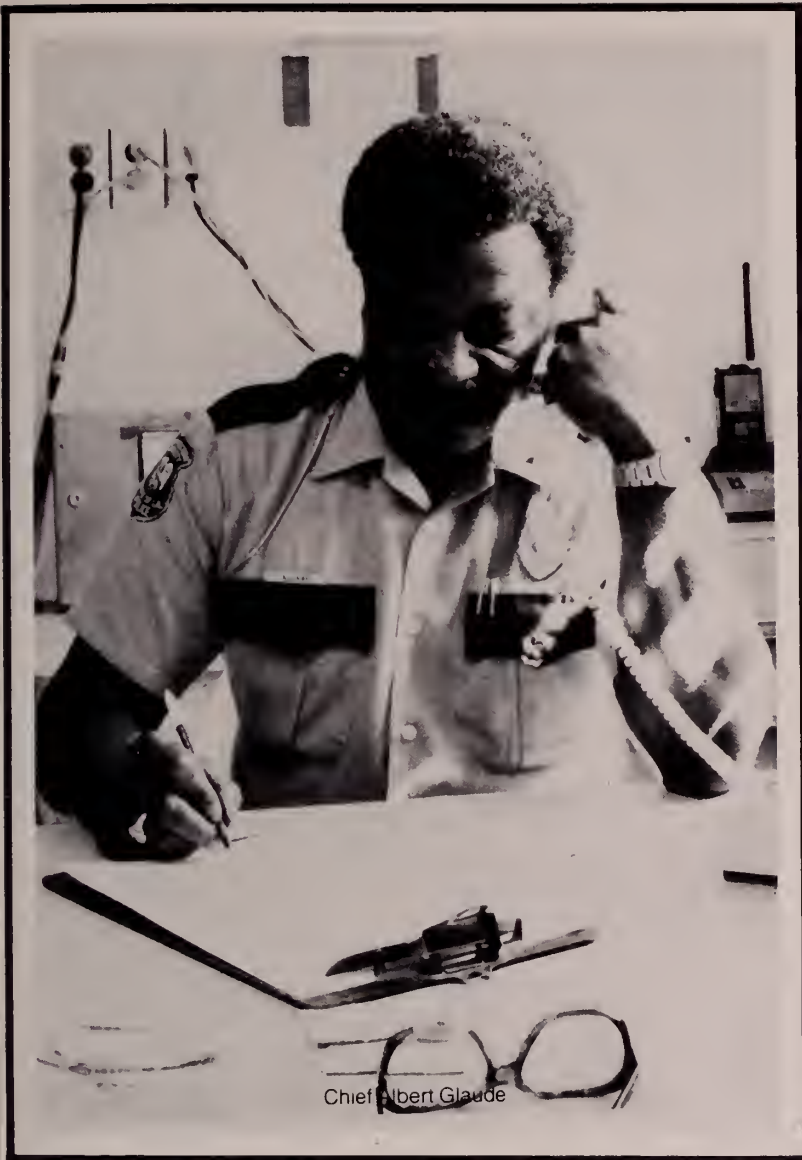

Challenges for the inquisitive mind and versatility of pre-professional study programs are the basics offered by the College of Biological, Mathematical, and Physical Sciences. Scientific experience for advanced study enables the four areas of this college to prepare students to accept the challenges of employment or to succeed in gaining admissions to graduate school.

USL took a giant step toward becoming the leading scientific school in the state in another field besides computer science when the Physics Department acquired a $700,000 Van de Graff Electrostatic Accelerator from NASA's Flight Center in Houston. The accelerator is designed to "split" and "smash" atoms. It is the only one in the state.

The Graduate School is of great importance to USL because it attracts and stimulates the University's scholars. USL offers 36 master's degrees, three educational specialists degrees, and four doctoral degrees. Education seems to attract the largest number of students. Last year three of its doctoral programs were cut — biology, microbiology, and history. The concentration of the state's resources to produce fewer, yet better qualified doctoral programs within the state was the primary reason, and USL was fortunate to lose only three of the 18 state-wide programs eliminated. Dean Jones heads the Graduate School and has done so since 1972. Ten years prior to his appointment, he was a member of the faculty at USL. Plans under way to improve the Graduate School include the appeal for a doctoral program in Environmental Biology because of the area need for a program of this type.

UNIVERSITY POLICE

USL's University Police Department is under the direction of Chief Glaude. The chief rose from sergeant in 1970 to the superior officer in only four years. His record gives reason for his quick ascension. Chief Glaude has an Assoc. Degree in Law Enforcement, is a member of numerous organizations, and is currently President-elect of the La. University Police Association. Working with him are 20 full-time and 23 part-time officers who work 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Their primary responsibility is to maintain order and safety on campus. The major problem the University Police face is parking violations. There are over 5,000 registered vehicles on campus. Statistics show that 9,000 tickets are issued each semester, and only 15% of these are never paid.

The USL infirmary, under the direction of Edward Villemez, treats approximately 4000 students per semester. With a sixteen-bed facility, six registered nurses and two aides, last spring the clinic helped 470 bed patients. The most common illnesses noted by the infirmary were colds, minor surgeries, stomach problems, and anemia.

The medical facility is financed through student assessed fees for dormitory students and semester fees for commuters and apartment dwellers. To insure proper medical attention based on previous or existing medical problems, students are required to keep a current physical report on file in the infirmary.

L'ACADIEN 1979 - REPRISE

As every year is unique, the 1979 L'Acadien shares part of its singularity with the days that it attempts to embody in words and pictures.

My becoming editor was filled with enough controversy and turbulence that my commenting on it here would only be redundant.

What you have before you is USL's first budget year-book. Much talk was carried on about the infamous $40,000 L'Acadien surplus, but due to directives from the Martin Hall this book was placed under greater fiscal control than any previous book. Dozens of ideas that both the staff and myself wanted had to be junked because we simply could not afford it and stay within the approved budget. Thus what we came up with is indeed a compromise to our ingenuity. The expenses for L'Acadien totaled $103,560. Body type is Helvetica with the majority of the heading type being Vogue Bold, although seven others are used. Paper is enamel 80 with the end sheets being 70% screened. Artwork on the cover by Wayne Talbot is embossed with applied blue on Cordoba. Well over 30,000 black and white pictures were taken for use and nearly 500 color shots. Yours is one of 8,200 copies of the 1979 L'Acadien.

From both a style and editorial standpoint this book is a radical departure from last year's. The opening section is longer and employs mosaic and magazine format layouts. Throughout the book there is more copy that will undoubtedly be ill received by some. Regardless of what can be said, I know a whole-hearted attempt has been made to chronologize the period of spring 1978 thru fall of 1979 as representatively as possible. Some groups will feel slighted at the reduced coverage, while others will react in just the opposite fashion as for the first time the L'Acadien mentions them. Areas that have traditionally gotten pages way beyond their importance will scream loudest, but the book reflects the results of the L'Acadien evaluation poll handed out last fall much more than it does my personal bias. Although I must admit as with every publication, this annual incorporates a deal of my own beliefs. Always present was the struggle to say what I feel or to say what sounded "nice". Usually the middle way won and while less conservative, this book is as much factual as it is liberal. To reiterate, I know no single group will be totally pleased (I'm not). However, I hope that it does have enough versatility to be at least acceptable to everyone.

Pressure and dedication are the two key words to everybody involved in this book. For months we worked without knowing what company was going to publish the book: if indeed one was to be printed at all. For the first time ever, staff positions were advertised in the Vermilion. The staff was hired according to a point system, regardless of whether I knew them or not. While not homogeneous, the staff was more representative of the student body than ever before. And the problems to be expected with that kind of group did happen; yet there was enough dedication for us to pull together when it was necessary.

Now that this is over certain people must be thanked. First of all my staff for putting in the long hours, for all the patience and dedication when there was nothing left to do it for but pride. Thanks to Miss Mamalakis for the help when nobody thought she would. To Dean Blanco goes my sincerest gratitude because without his aid I doubt that it would have gotten done. To Gerri Arceneaux for making everything Dean Blanco and I did easier. To Mike, Mary and Joan in News Services for the advice and pictures. To John Stephans. To Fred Elsing Sr. for knowing it could be done and going out of his way to help. To all the photographers, especially, Rudy Schulze and Jon Donlon. Lastly and foremost, thanks to Elizabeth for everything.
